

What We Do!

Inersia Consulting serves as the focal point for consultative analyses of client business objectives. By integrating the technology and outsourcing capabilities, Inersia Consulting mobilizes the right resources, skills and alliances to identify, create and deliver sustainable business value to clients. We offer a flexible and global delivery model for all of our clients' needs.

Inersia Consulting offers its business solutions in the domains of business to business, business to consumer, content management, customer relationship management, enterprise resource planning and business efficiency optimization consulting which include enhanced work-flow, process streamlining et al. Our business solutions address all the facets and activities that define a given business.

Our technology services range from complete design and development of custom software applications to maintenance of existing applications. We ensure that our technology solutions help you increase the effectiveness of your current IT infrastructure. Our rich experience and exposure to various technologies enables us to provide multiple options for client to decide and select the right one.